I actually thought there was a fair chance of that. It will be interesting to follow.

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying a forum post on the website <http://www.heresy-online.net/forums/showthread.php?p=330>. The browser's address bar shows the URL, and the page title is "Games Workshop vs. Chapterhouse trial underway".

The forum post is by user chapterhousestudios, a Senior Member. The post content reads: "I cant provide a lot of insight, seeing that the appeal is in motion and there is still a ways to go, but I will do what I can with the facts everyone has access too (since I studied them for 2 weeks while in Chicago and on the stand). Once the rest of the items become public record I will be happy to discuss them." Below the text is a large image featuring the Chapterhouse Studios logo and the text "AND STRETCHING OUT TO EVERY CONCEIVABLE THEME".

The user's profile information is visible on the left: Join Date: Jun 2009, Location: Texas, Posts: 101, Reputation: 2. The post is marked as "OFF" and has a "QUOTE" button.

Below the post, there is a "Lower Navigation" section with a breadcrumb trail: "Heresy-Online > Wargaming Discussion and 40k Rumors Forums > Heresy Online > Wargaming News and 40k Rumors". A "Reload this Page" button is also present. Navigation links for "Previous Thread" and "Next Thread" are provided.

A "Posting Rules" box is located in the bottom left corner, listing rules such as "You may not post new threads", "You may not post replies", "You may not post attachments", and "You may not edit your posts". It also indicates that BB code, Smilies, and [IMG] code are on, while HTML code is off.

The browser's taskbar at the bottom shows various application icons and the system clock, which reads "2:55 PM 8/27/2013".
